STUART—The 4th Annual Hope for Freedom Benefit Concert will be in the South Fork High School auditorium on April 30 at 7 p.m. Featuring an exciting mix of performers from South Fork and Martin County, professional groups such as the Preston Contemporary Dance Theatre, and South Florida-based bands Rocket to Anywhere and The Calm, this show will display an impressive array of music, dance and artistic talent. There will also be a silent auction of amazing and affordable artworks, as well as a concession stand and dreamcatcher fundraiser.

Benefit Concert will provide an unforgettable night of music, art, and education while simultaneously bringing us closer to a world free of slavery and human trafficking.

Contrary to popular belief, more people are in slavery now than at any other point in human history. Forced to work non-stop for their owners in fields, factories, or brothels, these people pass under the public radar. Sometimes they live their entire lives shackled to this terrible system. Even here in our own state. The goal of Hope for Freedom is to make a change, to force this issue into the forefront, and bring freedom to those who so desperately deserve it, and rehabilitate the survivors.

The Hope for Freedom Benefit Concert, put on by Artists for a Cause students at South Fork High School, is a charity fundraiser to help end slavery and human trafficking in our regional community and throughout the world. Attending this event will not only provide a night of talent and entertaining performance, but will also help end the archaic practice of slavery and rehabilitate those who are finally free.

Tickets are $10 for adults, $5 for students and seniors, available at the door. For more information, call 772-201-3579, ext. 230, or email walente@martin.k12.fl.us
